

Lady Katherine Paget (left) and her brother, the Earl of Uxbridge, twin children of the Marquis and Marchioness of Anglesey, snapped while out for their daily airing in the park. Their mother was Lady Marjorie Manners, daughter of the Duke of Rutland and a sister of Lady Diana, now Lady Diana Cooper. The boy is heir to the title.

Kadel & Herbert.

Miss Grace Helen Talbot, Junior League girl and serious sculptor, at work in her studio on her "Venice Invincible." Central News.

Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Chamber of Commerce in Los Angeles. In the photo he is shown with Elmer E. Sperry, inventor of the gyrocompass (left), and Charles M. Schwab.

Keystone.

Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball, listening to the pleas of Johnnie Evers (left), Kid Gleason and Eddie Collins on behalf of Dickie Kerr, White Sox pitcher, during the American League convention in New York.

Pacific & Atlantic.

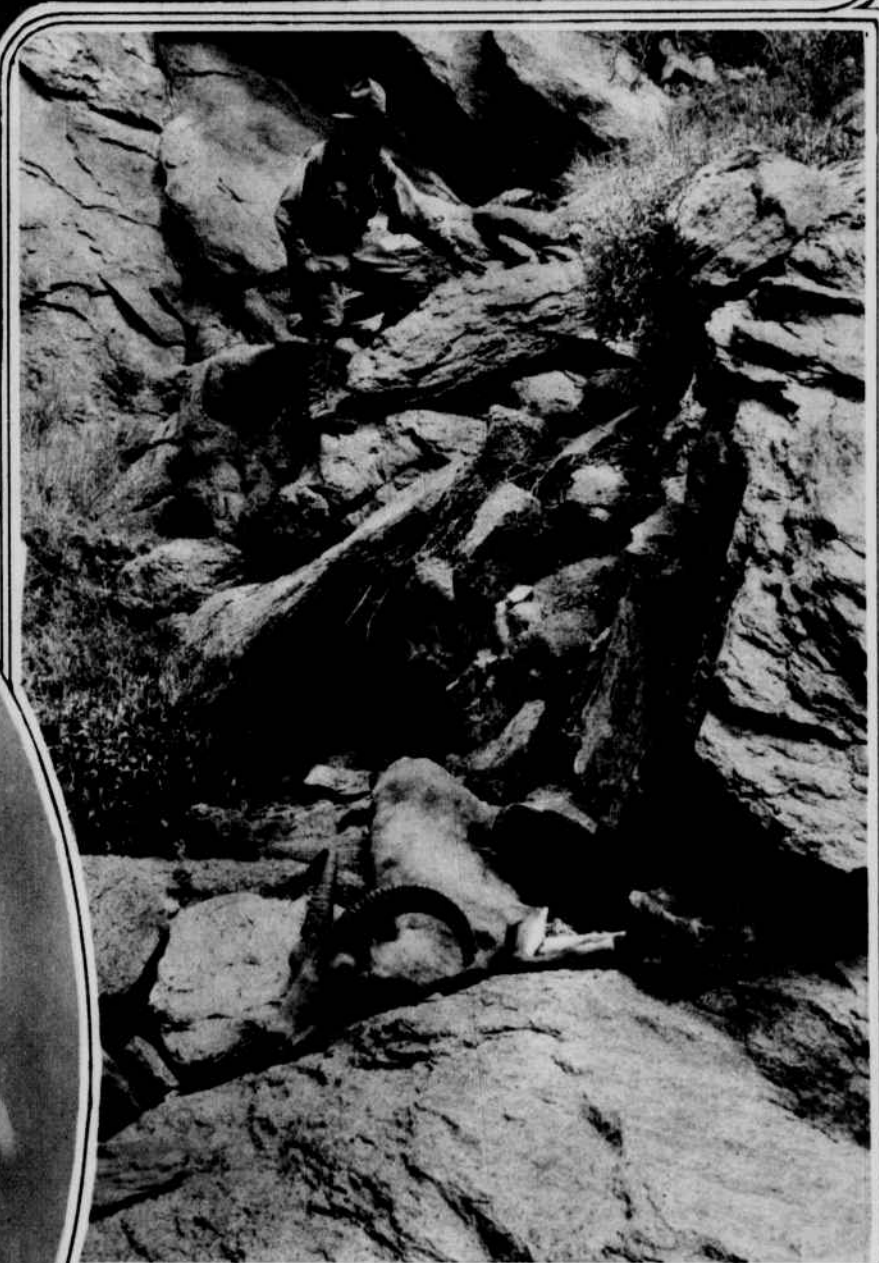

An intimate new photograph of Charles Hackett, grand opera tenor, and his daughter, Carla who at 4 1/2 years of age is showing remarkable progress as a linguist.

Underwood & Underwood.

Efficiency in the dental school. A student at Northwestern University in Chicago on the way to class with her complete outfit ready for business.

Wide World.

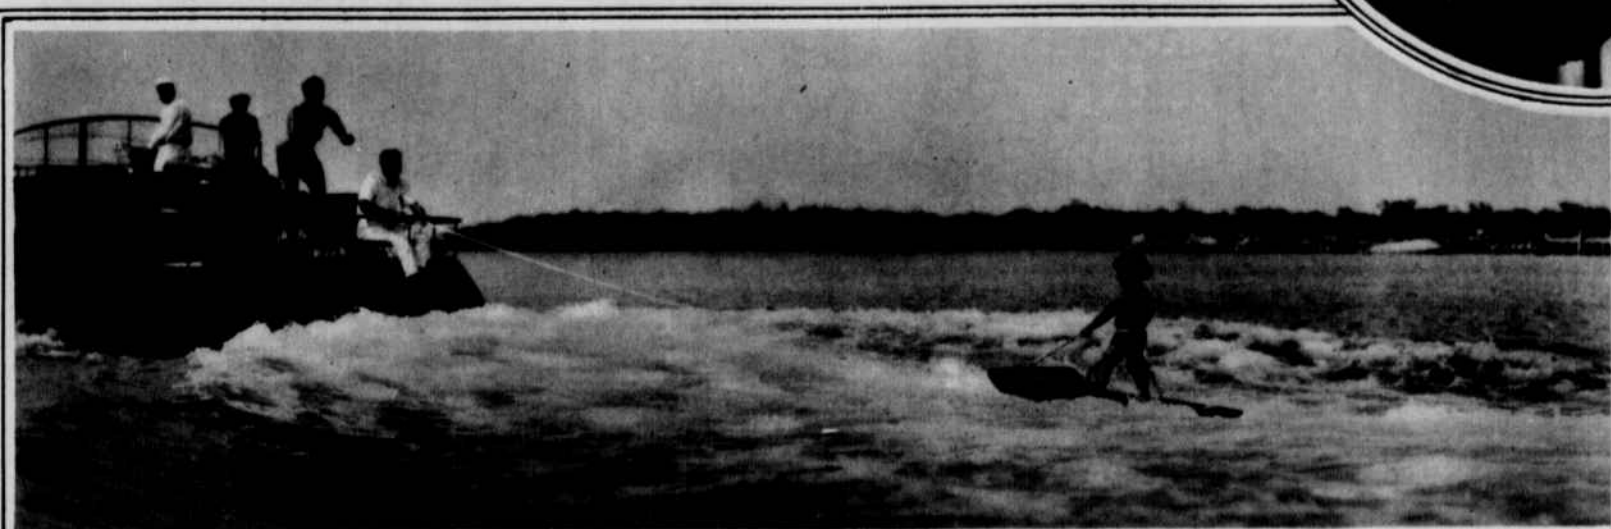

Hunting the bighorn mountain sheep. The huntsman must be almost as agile as his prey in climbing from rock to rock, as is shown in this photograph made in the Mexican Rockies.

Gilliams.

Artur Bodanzky, conductor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, making a test of the famous old piano on which Richard Wagner created his masterpieces, which was brought to America by Robert H. Prosser, American soldier in the world war.

Kadel & Herbert.

A new sport for youngsters. Little Jackie Ott, 3 1/2 years of age and champion at the game, shown on his aquaplaning board in the wake of a high powered motor boat at Miami.

Fotograms.

Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, United States Minister to China, chatting with Capt. A. St. C. Smith (left), Naval Attache of the American Legation, at the races in Peking.

Underwood & Underwood

A caddie who likes peanuts. For a generous donation "Nero" will carry your bag over the links at Miami Beach. In fact the more (bags and peanuts) the merrier.